CO-EDS INSIST
THEY CAN EARN
THEIR OWN WAY

Wooster, Ohio.—Here man has no corner on the business of working one's way through college.

Co-eds at Wooster College testify to this assertion in essays they have submitted to college authorities in a contest on "How I Worked My Way Through College."

Girls attending the college paid their expenses by performing various tasks, including cleaning houses, ironing, waiting table, doing office work, caring for babies, doing laboratory work, doing dishes at college dormitories, tutoring and working in factories.

"I'm sorry of course, that conditions make it impossible for you to float through college 'on flowery beds of ease,' but let me tell you, you'll enjoy school ever so much more if you pay for it all yourself," declares Miss Florence E. Wallace, of Wooster, a senior, whose essay was in the form of a letter to a friend to whom she divulged her experiences in working her way through school.

"Pocket Your False Pride,"

Miss Wallace laid down three rules to which she adheres. They are:

"First, pocket your false pride. Be proud only of being able to pay your own way.

"Second, take any job that offers no matter how disagreeable, or poorly paid. That kind of work well done, usually leads to something better.

"Third, let everyone know you are willing to work. It pays to advertise."

Miss Wallace said her expenses during her first years in college were less than $200. By the time her junior year was completed, her expenditures reached $225. This year, which will include her graduation, she estimates $300 will be sufficient to meet all requirements.

Miss Wallace has earned money both summers and winters. Her favorite odd-job is waiting table.

"I started when I was in high school," she confessed, "and I have become quite expert. I have served at the country club, at college affairs, at private dinners and at three summer hotels. I have worked on Saturdays at a shoe store, and, later at a clothing store. The objection to Saturday work is that nearly all the college games and parties come on that day.

"I do not use a typewriter but I have found office work to do. I have addressed thousands of envelopes. Last summer profiting by the training I received in the science in which I am majoring, I procured laboratory employment and saved $200 during vacation. I have taken care of babies, done housework for faculty wives, and when a freshman I worked in a factory one vacation and did sweat-shop work at home for 12 1-2 cents an hour.

"Like the widow's curse, I've always abounded with opportunities for work. It seems as if I never need extra money without extra work appearing. Sometimes I've wished I were twins so I could do two jobs simultaneously. I've often been able to get work for other girls and many of them have been kind in remembering me for the same purpose.

Miss Jean Wilson whose parents are missionaries in India has done some "domestic intervention" to "bring in the ducats," she said.

"Many of the good ladies of the community are glad to let someone play Martha for them at times," said Miss Wilson. "I have done it on a number of occasions. For anyone who likes housework, or cooking, there is an opportunity here for fairly steady employment. In the same connection I might mention the cherubim infants with which this town is richly endowed.

"They often need to be taken care of while 'mama' and 'papa' go out to dinner or club. Some of the children are quite adorable. Some aren't. But that's all in the day's work. I most enjoy taking care of them from 7:30 p. m. to 11 p. m. They sleep and I read. That's very convenient."

Miss Luella Cumming of Rockford, Ill., declares that giving her name to the college Y. W. C. A.

employment committee when she came to Wooster two years ago afforded her plenty of work.

Washing Dishes 'Fun'
"The wife of a furloughed missionary wanted someone to help her get ready to go back to her work. So I gave her an afternoon a week which resolved itself into an ironing day. When other calls for ironing came, I accepted gladly. I spent Saturday mornings for one woman, cleaning house.

"Washing dishes at the dormitory proved to be lots of fun. I spent an hour in the kitchen every night, washing dishes. Yes, but I was, also getting acquainted with the other girls who work there. Being 'hall girl' proved delightful employment. The work was principally answering the telephone and doorbell.

"In my second year I tried living out in town and working for my board and room. I like it, but it was too hard for me. Then I began working just for my room. That was much better. It gave me just enough of the home touch to keep my fingers nimble. I have, also done some work as assistant to the college librarian and a profitable path to the coffers of the world at large is through my stocking agency. I always find some girls who are needing hose. Last Christmas, we girls made dainty organdie flowers in bouquets and sold them and found a brisk demand for them. I often earn extra money by typing theses, or book reviews, or things of that sort."

HEART AND HOME PROBLEMS

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been married eight years and have worked diligently for the only woman that I ever loved. She seems to be indifferent toward me, although I am sure that she loved me when we were married.

I have been informed by other women that she is breaking up their homes. No man could have lived any truer to his wife than I have, although I have had numerous chances to take up with other women, but for her respect I refrained.

We now have two of the sweetest children, five and seven years old, and it is for their sake only that I live and try to make a home for her.

I am just an average salaried man. She seems to think that I ought not to spend any time around home. She does not care to go out with me and I don't care to go out without her. She is unreliable in her statements. I could mention a few more things, but you might think they were impossible.

If you will kindly answer this letter I will appreciate it very much.

A HUSBAND.

When there are children in the case, it usually seems to me that the wisest thing is to put up with a bad bargain. Center your interest on the children and try to find the companionship in them which you crave in your wife. I think you will find the children very responsive to any attention you show them. If you take them walking, for wild flowers, to the ice cream parlor, to a circus or children's show, they will be delighted and adore you.

Do not place too much importance on the stories other women tell you. You can count on it that they have jumped at conclusions and have enjoyed their mission as tale-bearers. If your wife is not true it is all the more important that your children should have your companionship so that they can feel the good influence which will be the natural outcome of your loyalty. It is unfortunate when children cannot have a good influence from both parents; picture, however, the many women who are bravely facing faithlessness from their husbands and hiding the truth from the children until they are old enough to understand.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am in love with a boy whom I have known for several years. We started to correspond two years ago.

I am high tempered and he is jealous. We broke our friendship this winter and he left town. About two weeks after he had left he wrote to me and said he still loved me and he would not have left if we had not quarreled.

I answered his letter and told him how sorry I was. He came to see me the next week and several times afterward. Then for a while he stopped coming and writing.

He wrote me two weeks ago and asked me to forgive him for not coming and said that if I still loved him he would come home right away. I answered his letter the same evening and told him that I still loved him and to come home. But he hasn't come home or answered my letter.

Must I wait for him, or give him up? I don't love any other boy.

LOVE SICK.

I do not believe the young man loves you, or he would show more interest and be more faithful. He cares for you to some extent, of course, or he would not go back to you after long silence. Wait and see what happens. He may offer a reasonable excuse for his last silence. Do not write to him, and if you do not get a letter within a month or six weeks, consider him as lost and try to stop thinking about him.

BUCKEYE BABIES
WANT REGISTRATION FOR FUTURE GOOD

Ohio babies want registration. The argument for their desires is that Ohio registers voters and soldiers, lands and incomes, automobiles and motorboats, and blooded stock.

"Babies," says the Ohio council on child welfare "want to be registered."

Register Every Baby's Birth.
It is estimated that 250,000 babies—a quarter of a million—died last year. Many of these died in the first few weeks of life because their existence was not known to agencies which could have helped them. Why was their existence not known in time to save them?

Because their births were not registered.

In case of need, you are entitled to a mother's pension for children who are not of age.

Can you prove your right to a pension? If you have children entitled to the benefits of the Workmen's Compensation,

Can you prove their right to this compensation?

Birth registration is considered of such importance in some places in Ohio that birth certificates must be presented at entrance to school.

Could your child enter school here? To provide for a free happy child food and the prevention of illness which follow from the employment of children, Ohio requires employment certificates for boys of 16 and girls of 16 and 17 going to work.

Can your child prove his right to work?

No citizen of the United States can vote until he is 21.

Can your child prove his right to vote? Protect Every Baby's Rights

Proof of age is required to secure a marriage license.

Can your child prove his right to marry?

In order to travel abroad a passport is required as proof of citizenship. To establish citizenship, a birth record is required.

Could your child secure a passport? In order to practice certain professions or to hold certain offices, a man must prove his age.

Will your child be able to prove his right to practice his chosen profession?

Within the past few months a large inheritance reverted to England, because the heir could not prove his citizenship.

Can your child prove his citizenship? In case of war or military service it is necessary to present proof of age.

Can your coy establish his age? What Easy Method is there for Securing These Proofs?

1. Make sure that the doctor registers YOUR baby's birth immediately.

2. If your child's birth was not registered at the time of birth, have it done NOW.

Another black and white hat. At the front is a rosette of black petals. The detail sketch shows the petals to be a small sack, black satin on one side, and white satin on the other. Into this sack is thrust a bit of a wire loop to hold out the material in petal shape. The little case is about three inches long. The black faces front, and the white shows a bit at the edges.

YOUR IDEAL WEIGHT
A great many people do not know whether they are too fat or too thin. It is more or less a matter of guess-work with them. And as they gain weight slowly and see themselves every day, and as they seem to be in good health, it does not occur to them that flesh is creeping slowly over the whole body and gradually covering up every line of youth or grace. Besides this, stout women are notoriously lenient to themselves.

If in a room full of stout women somebody speaks admiringly of a certain slim figured person at least one of the stout women will remark "Well, I like a little flesh on my bones!"

You can find your ideal weight by consulting the weight chart used by the insurance companies. Most of the patent scales have these charts printed so you can read them while you are getting weighed. These charts are very liberal and you can weigh in pounds less if you are a grown woman and still be healthy.

Here is another method. Stand against a door in your stocking feet and have somebody mark the height of the top of your head. Take the number of inches this is. Then multiply the number of inches over five feet in height by 5 1-2 and add 110. For instance we will say you are 5 feet 7 inches without your shoes on; then:

7 times 5 1-2 is 38 1-2 plus 110 is 148 1-2, the ideal weight for that height.

If you are not 5 feet tall, multiply the number of inches under five feet by 5 1-2 and subtract from 110. For instance, if you are 4 feet 11 inches tall, you would multiply the 1 inch by 5 1-2, which would give you 5 1-2 and when this is subtracted from 110, you will find that your ideal weight would be 104 1-2.

These figures are general, for the older you are the more you can weigh in proportion to your height, but over the course of a great many years the difference will not be very great.

Helen—A good honey almond cream would not cause hair on the face or pimples, nor should a pure rice powder have any such effect. The pimples probably come from some stomach disorder. Give the face a thorough cleansing every day with cleansing cream and then scrub the skin with hot water and castile soap. This will stimulate the skin and do away with the dark shadow around the mouth. Dirt is frequently rubbed into the skin around the mouth and at the back of the neck and it is necessary to use unusually thorough means to keep these parts clean.

PROFILES
A short time ago in one of the articles in this space I made a remark to the effect that the full face can be deceptive, but that truth is shown by the profile. This is because we are all clever enough—particularly we women—to mask our real selves behind an assumed expression. This little deception is much harder to practice when the profile is under observation, for the profile is mostly features and very little expression.

But I do not mean that the profile cannot be improved or changed. A certain amount of deception can be practiced even with the profile. A sloping forehead can be hidden if the hair is dressed very low over it. A short eyebrow, which looks much worse from the side face than the full face, can be encouraged to grow in a long line with the aid of proper tonics. The eyelashes can be treated in a similar way, for these count fully as much in the profile as they do full face.

For the rest of the features, the nose, mouth and chin, there is very little that can be done. The outline of the whole face, however, can be made or marred by the manner in which the hair is dressed. In order to find which style of hair dressing is best becoming, you should study, not only your full face, but your profile, too. In fact, I think that the style of hair dressing is much more important in its relation to the profile, because here again your beauty depends upon the lines of the face and the head.

Hollow cheeks can be covered up, if the hair is brought well forward over the ears. Many of the wrinkles of middle age which come just in front of the ear and over the forehead, can be covered up if the hair is dressed very softly around the face. Therefore, take out your hand-mirror and pose yourself sideways to your dresser mirror and spend five minutes at least studying your profile.

CHURCHES OF COUNTY HOLD CONFERENCE IN XENIA APRIL 15

Representatives of Greene county churches will meet Friday, April 15, at the First Methodist Church of Xenia in an interdenominational conference, to consider the report of the recent rural church survey in the county and to formulate a cooperative program designed to correct weaknesses revealed by the survey.

Arrangements for the meeting are in charge of Rev. G. S. Fols of Bowersville. Rev. B. F. Lamb, secretary of the Ohio Federation of Churches, Columbus, who directed the survey throughout the state, will be represented at the meeting by Rev. C. W. Brugh of Tiffin, who is chairman of the evangelistic committee of the state federation. Dr. Brugh will discuss Greene County church conditions with the church representatives and will give information as to survey findings in the state at large.

Each Protestant church in the county has been asked to send three official delegates—the pastor, one layman and one laywoman—but other members are also urged to attend and join freely in the discussions. The conference, it is announced will be primarily for informal discussion of the survey findings and needed improvements.

The meeting will be one of a series of more than 50 county church conferences being held in the state this spring. Jackson and Fayette counties will have their meetings the same day as this county. Permanent county federations of churches have been organized in several counties to deal with problems brought to light by the surveys.

Although two-thirds of the population of Greene County outside of Xenia are not members of any church the rural and village churches of the county registered a gain of only four per cent in the year preceding the survey. Cooperative action to extend the influence of the church in the country districts is said to be an important need revealed by the survey. The survey shows the county to have 67 rural and village churches with a total enrollment of 7,495. The report deals in detail particularly with the 64 Protestant churches, of 15 denominations, with a combined resident membership of 5,906. The rural and village population from which this enrollment is drawn totals 22,111.

The 64 Protestant churches are served by 39 pastors, of whom only 27 devote full time to the ministry, the others having outside occupations. Only eleven churches have full time resident pastors, most of the full time ministers being on circuits which divided their time between two or more churches. One minister serves nine churches. As a result of the division of ministerial services less often than once a week the report also indicates that fewer churches without resident pastors than with them are growing. Only six of the 34 Protestant ministers whose salaries were reported in the survey receive more than $1500 recently established by resolution of state leaders of various denominations as the minimum wage for which a rural minister should be asked to serve in Ohio.

GANG FIGHT ENDS IN ARREST MONDAY OF FIFTEEN BOYS

A "Battle Royal" ensued, when gang met gang, on the Pennsylvania railroad park, opposite the Xenia Shoe Manufacturing Company on South Detroit street, shortly after ten o'clock Monday night.

As a result Patrolman Charles Simms and Motorcycle Policeman Clark Stethem arrested 15 boys between the ages of 15 and 20, who were alleged to have been mixed up in the gang fight, and who were released for appearance before Judge E. Dawson Smith Tuesday morning.

Judge Smith gave the 15 lads a severe talking to when they were arraigned before him Tuesday morning, and at the conclusion of the lecture made them all shake hands with John Purdon, 20, who seemed to be the center of animosity. The boys arrested were Eugene Wead, 19, Frank Davis, 20, Elias Quinn, 19, Glen McFadden, 17, Tom Mason, 16, John Purdon, 20, Lawrence Purdon, 17, Don Finley 15, Emmett Hartley, 15, Kenneth Holman, 16, Elwood Smith, 17, Carl Cowan, 16, Lawrence Jordan, 16, Clifford Hagler, 16, and Bernard Donovan, 16.

"The Use and Abuse of Mental Tests" will be the chief subject discussed by Dr. S. S. Colvin, Dean of Brown University, at the Greene County Teachers' meeting, to be held at the McKinley school building on West Market street, Saturday.

The meeting will start at 9:30 o'clock in the morning. The teachers of Greene County are fortunate in having the opportunity of hearing Dr. Colvin, at their regular meeting. The educator will be in Columbus Thursday and Friday, taking part in the program of the Ohio State Educational Conference, and it was due to his proximity, that the local authorities were able to secure him at this time. Dr. Colvin will deliver two lectures during the meeting, the second being of a more general nature. There will also be short talks by the teachers and exhibits showing actual achievements in specific lines of work, and music furnished by the different schools. The talks will be on writing, construction work, manual training and club work in its different forms. All teachers, both from the city and county are expected to be present.

The boys claimed that when they were attending a party last week, that boys who were attending the affair at the Parrett home, stole their ice cream and they were merely reciprocating. They were released after being lectured by Chief Graham.

All boys and girls between the ages of eight and 15 will receive big red tags, which will entitle them to the party at the end of the week. It is announced that the meeting is open to everyone.

PLAN JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL IN TOWN OF CLIFTON SOON

The organization of a Junior High School at Clifton, and an attempt to take care of senior high school students at Cedarville High School, is proposed by County Superintendent of Schools H. C. Aultman, who has direct charge of the Clifton schools, to provide that village with High School facilities.

Clifton had a first grade high school up until a few years ago, when the new school code passed in 1914, forced the Board of Education to abandon the high school. Since then the village has been without any except the grade school accommodations.

It is Superintendent Aultman's plan to conduct a Junior High School on the plan that it is operated here, and including what is known as the first year of High School. The Board hopes to co-operate with Cedarville school authorities in sending students from Clifton to Cedarville High School for the last three years of the work, and it is expected that the Board will furnish transportation between Clifton and Cedarville for all students desiring to take the high school course. The move would necessitate an increase to the faculty of the Clifton schools. It being necessary to add an instructor in home economics, and the extension and enlargement of the manual training and agricultural departments.

A MORE HUMANITARIAN WAY OF "SHUFFLING OFF" CRIMINALS.

In Nevada the electric chair is to give way to the gas chamber for legal executions. The most modern of methods for getting rid of dangerous members of society has certain obvious advantages, for society at least, over hanging and electric shock. There will be nothing of the usual sort for spectators to shudder at. The task of the executioner will be made less difficult. A kind of gas will be used that is practically odorless and which kills painlessly and almost instantaneously. The doomed prisoner will be shut in a cell without any visible mechanism of death. When the time arrives, the cell will be rendered airtight, the gas will be turned on without notice, and the transition from this world to the next will be effected with ease and dispatch.

We had never expected to "go hence" for our crimes either by a noose necklace or by the electric chair, deeming these plans too repulsive; but if we ever had to die as a criminal we would ask for the Nevada plan, as above set forth. It is certainly the least harrowing to the feelings of the doomed man, as well as to his relatives, of any of the well known ways of executing criminals.

In fact we think Nevada has found the least objectionable plan ever devised for the performance of the most disagreeable task that ever falls to the lot of public police officials, to say nothing of the feelings of those who are the most interested parties in the transaction. Many a public sheriff would rather resign than be an executioner of a fellowman as one of his official duties.

We have heard of persons who have a mania to witness public executions, but have always regarded that as exceptional in the way of low and distorted taste. None of that for us.

We congratulate Nevada on her humanitarian movement in the interest of her "down and out" citizens.

P. PEACE SOCIETY.

A new peace society has been formed in Japan. Its object is the correction of the misunderstandings and prejudices which exist against Japan in other countries, and in Japan against other nations. Representatives are to be sent abroad to further this purpose. Friendlier feelings between China and Japan and between the United States and Japan are felt to be particularly desirable.

This is a move in the right direction. Other nations should not be backward in doing their share toward the establishment of pleasant relations.

One of the Japanese dignitaries interested in the new move complains that his country is unjustly accused by aggressiveness and militarism. "All peoples have merits and faults," said he, "but we are judged by our faults alone." Perhaps this is true. If the better thought of Japan can show her in a better light, it will be work well done.

Japan should remember this, however. Where there is smoke there is fire. If Japan's neighbors view her through a distorting cloud of smoke, the fire is of her own kindling. A nation does not come to be called militaristic and aggressive without good reason. As Japan hopes to set herself in a clearer light she must acknowledge and act upon this truth. Her efforts should be met with an open mind.

THE CASE AGAINST RUSSIA.

In the American note to the Russian Soviet government, Secretary Hughes has made it plain that the United States is not refusing to enter into trade relations with Russia because the latter has a Socialist or Bolshevik administration, but because that administration gives no assurance of safety for life and property, freedom for labor and observance of contracts.

Without the sanctity of life, property and contract, there can be no satisfactory trade with any country. They are essential to the conduct of business. The labor issue is moral rather than commercial, but none the less effective in determining American relations with Russia. Americans do not care much about patronizing Russian industry under conditions that make the industrial workers virtually slaves.

The United States, as Secretary Hughes informs Lenin, will be glad to learn of fundamental changes in Russia removing the objections set forth. In the meantime, although private enterprise in this country is at liberty, as it has been heretofore, to engage in Russian trade at its own risk, the government can not undertake to support such enterprise as it does in the case of countries of whose internal order and governmental honor there is no question.

Paramount, among Great Britain's trouble right now, seems to be her great coal strike, and we are prone to wonder how a nation with such a staggering debt on its shoulders, can afford to permit six of its great mines to be flooded to the extent that they will never be used again. However the situation, despite the scarcity of coal, may be not as black as it is painted.

At last we have discovered what is the matter with the mails. The postmaster general is the only department head in Washington that cannot have an automobile at the expense of the government. He must have a horse-drawn vehicle or walk.

Of one thing, at least, Viviani is now sure—that the Allies must pay their debts to the United States, and that kissing while all right in its place, is hardly sufficient warrant for cancelling an obligation.

Ex-Emperor Karl of Austria in his spectacular coup to regain a lost throne, failed to take into consideration one factor, that a nation is no longer willing to risk everything simply for the privilege of furnishing him a meal ticket for life.

Colonel George Harvey admits there is one thing he has to learn and is now spending his time at Washington "learning not to talk." Now we will see the habits of a life time pitted against the desires of the moment.

"Poland, says report, is going to adopt tank cars for plowing. They evidently believe in preparedness.

TREATMENT BY A FAMOUS FRENCH SPECIALIST

1901--Twenty Years Ago--1921

Superintendent Frazier of the Court House has a big contract on hand in getting a couple iron girders in place above the county roof. The girders weigh five tons each and are thirty six feet in length. The work of hoisting and getting them in place will be accomplished tomorrow.

The senatorial convention of the 56th District composed of Clinton, Ross, Highland, Fayette and Greene Counties convened in the Opera House, with full delegations from all the counties and two delegations from Fayette.

Thomas J. Maxwell of Prairie Depot, O., formerly of the Gazette, is in town shaking hands with his many friends.

As evidence that Mr. T. is a rising young man we mention the fact that he was this spring elected to the office of Mayor in his town.

Sheriff Steve Phillips of Fayette County, formerly of Xenia was here today among the Fayette delegation to the Senatorial convention. We did not learn which faction Steve is identified with. He said he was not particularly under restraint from either side and said he could trot about as good a pace as ever.

At a meeting of the Jamestown village council last night Harry Frey was granted a franchise through the streets for the construction of an electrical line which he proposes to build from Springfield to Wilmington.

Is It Yours?

This is the Birthday of ELIHU YALE April 5, 1648.

Elihu Yale, more familiarly spoken of by students of Yale University as Eli Yale, or even as Old Eli, was born in New England, possibly in Boston, in 1648.

When he was 22 years old, he was obsessed with the idea of making a fortune, so he went out to India, where in that period enormous fortunes were quickly built up. He succeeded excellently. He became a powerful factor with the British government in India, was made Governor of the British settlement there and married an Indian woman of high rank. When he was 50 years old, he sailed for England with his wife and his fortune, intending to enjoy the rest of his life.

He had no son to inherit his wealth, so he sent to Connecticut for a member of his family to live with him and become his heir. New England wanted a college and wrote Yale asking gifts. Yale sent a lot of books. Then Cotton Mather wrote asking for money and remarking that if the contribution were large enough, the new college might be named after its benefactor. He stated that such an honor would be "better than the names of sons and daughters."

Yale was pleased with the idea, but he didn't send any money. Instead he donated an oil painting of George 1st and some East Indian goods. The money from the sale of the goods was even more than he expected. It amounted to $3,000, which in that day was a large sum. It was enough, at least, to put his name on the college forever.

BREWER KILLS SELF

HARDING ENDORSES RELIEF CAMPAIGN TO PURCHASE RICE

The campaign of the Near East Relief to raise funds for the purchase of 2000 tons of the rice crop of the south, to be sent to Armenia to feed the starving population has been endorsed by President Harding, according to advice received by E. W. Huelsster, State Director of the Near East Relief.

In his message of endorsement, the President says, "It is a pleasure to me to give my heartiest endorsement to the movement which you are organizing in southern states aiming to raise funds to buy the south's surplus crop for the relief of the starving of the Near East. The cause is one worthy of the earnest effort you are devoting to it and I hope your splendid humane enterprise may be crowned with all success."

Everyday Etiquette

"If you are to be married in a traveling suit, is it proper to have a bridesmaid?" inquired Marjorie.

"Yes, it is perfectly proper to have an attendant when you are married in a suit. More than one bridesmaid, however, is not correct," said her mother.

The Freedmen's Bureau, organized in 1867, was discontinued in about five years.

With diphtheria the symptoms usually appear with two days.

Ordinarily we consume about thirty ounces of oxygen daily, requiring about twelve ounces of carbon to replace the waste, the equivalent of three pounds of bread.

THE MILLENIUM.

Some day the stand-off scheme will smash, a wise old seer has said it, and all we'll buy will be for cash, and none will ask for credit. Collectors then won't block our way and bluff and plead and beckon; and that will be a happy day for all of us, I reckon. We have to pay more for our eats, and find the poorhouse closer, because we pay the bills of beats who sting the corner grocer. The grocer sighs, "This Jasper Jones has jumped our lovely city, and he was owing forty bones, which seems a ghastly pity. He'll never pay me for my rice, he never more will greet me; and so I'll have to raise the price from those who do not beat me." And when I go to purchase prunes to feed my children twenty, he's raised the price some picayunes, and soaks me good and plenty. The tailor trusts a hundred men, and ten of them don't pay him, and I must dig an extra yen to comfort him and stay him. And so it goes along the line, in every kind of dealing; the deadbeat adds to bills of mine until my head is reeling. "Twill be a blessed day, gadzooks, when "stand-off system" ceases, when merchant princes burn their books, and kick the slate to pieces.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH THE MODERN GIRL? "NOT A THING," DECLARES UNIVERSITY DEAN

Chicago.—The modern girl and her mode of personal adornment have stood a lot of knocking from those who sigh for the "good old days," but now the "m. g." has found a staunch defender. Mary Ross Potter, dean of women at Northwestern University, answers the oft-uttered question: What's the matter with the girls of today? by declaring: "Not a thing!"

"There is nothing wrong with the girl of today because she uses a lip stick and a little rouge and a dab of powder," Dean Potter said.

"Of course, the dress of the girl of today—skirt to the knees almost, flimsy stockings, flimsy everything—is not the dress of mother's generation. Nevertheless, she is sweet and good at heart.

"She has independence—a bit of frivolousness—that did not belong to her mother's day. She doesn't like to be ordered about. She wants to hold up her head and go her way as she sees that way.

"But such a spirit is the spirit of the times. It is the result of her war. Our soldiers felt that when they came home after serving their country no one had a right to order them around—regulate their every move. And I believe they are right, too.

"The girl of today has that spirit. There is the frequent criticism that our present-day girls prefer business careers to marriage. Yet they most affectionate and exceedingly ingenuously emotional, too emotional, I think.

Great Womanhood Forecast

"It is this emotionalism that is one of the problems of the day. But try to understand them do not be too harsh with them. For I feel sure that from the present-day girl will develop a higher type of womanhood.

"It is true we have more delinquents than formerly. That, too, is a sign of the times, and a very great problem. I hope we will face it bravely and solve it."

YOUNG WEBB BEATEN IN TWELVE ROUND GO WITH CLEVELAND MAN

Young Webb, who hails from near Wilmington, but who makes his headquarters in Dayton, and poses as a lightweight pug, slinger of no mean proportions, is a discouraged lad today.

Webb, who was outclassed in all departments of his twelve round bout with Charlie O'Connell of Cleveland, at the Miami Athletic Club show at Dayton Monday night, and was whipped to a frazzle. The Dayton boxer was a chopping block for the up-state lightweight, and twice hit the canvas. He was not counted out however, but put a game scrap, mixing it up at all times.

O'Connell's left whip worried Webb throughout the exhibition. It was this left jab that kept Webb from breaking through O'Connell's defense. The Cleveland fighter, keeps his left at arm's length, and keeps jabbing until he gets a chance to cross with his right. However he had a chance to floor Webb in the sixth that he missed, through overcautiousness.

Mutt Snyder, of Dayton, won the decision over Whitely Morrett of Columbus, in the ten-round semi-final, the Dayton boxer putting up a whirlwind battle all the way. In the preliminary Eddie Curtis knocked out Charlie Devlin in the second round of the scheduled six-round battle.

TY COBB TO MAKE BOW AS MAJOR LEAGUE MANAGER

New York, April 5.—Ty Cobb will make his bow as a major league manager next week.

Will he be a success or a failure? Will he be able to lead the Detroit Tigers out of the jungle of defeat. Will he make them a real power in the American league once again?

Baseball fans throughout the country are interested in these questions. They will watch Cobb and his bengals with genuine interest for the career of the Georgia Peach, already one of the most colorful in baseball history will be doubly brilliant if he succeeds as a manager.

Cobb is temperamental. He will be a temperamental manager. More than likely they will soon be calling him the "McGraw" of the American league.

But temperament does not usually travel with failure—not so you could notice it—and if Cobb gets the Tigers off on the right "claw" they may surprise everybody even themselves by finishing in the first division.

Cobb has said he will be satisfied with sixth place. Don't swallow all of that. The dash and spirit that has made Ty Cobb famous as a player will be a big help to him as a manager and so far he has impressed baseball men with the way he has handled his team in training.

Here is how he will line the Tigers up:

XENIA WILL SOON BE HOUR SLOWER THAN OTHER CITIES

Columbus advanced the clocks one hour Sunday in accordance with this year's daylight saving program. At Dayton, where the plan was in operation last year clocks will not be moved ahead for several weeks, the change taking place April 24. The municipal changing of the clocks, will again add confusion to travelers, between that city and Xenia, where central standard time is still in use. This fact was a source of great annoyance last summer to local people who found that adhering to old time here was exceedingly confusing.

It is understood that advancing the clocks one hour in this city would prove to be a popular move with Xenia people. A straw vote conducted by the Gazette and Republican last spring showed that the project was overwhelmingly favorable here.

AMERICAN LEGION NEWS

Joseph P. Foody Post, No. 95, American Legion, now has a pool table to add to its equipment in its new quarters.

The table was donated by Mrs. Mary Meredith, and has already been transferred from her home to the Post Hall, in the Trebein Building at Detroit and Second streets. It will afford Foody Legionnaires, the last finishing touch in equipment and club facilities that is already popularizing the quarters.

Mrs. C. L. Darlington, Mrs. William Frayer and Mrs. C. H. Denner, will be delegates of the Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion, who will go to Columbus next week as delegates to the first state convention of the Auxiliary.

There are now 108 Auxiliary Posts in the State, and in this list, the local Auxiliary stands sixth. The local organization was one of the first organized and chartered and its membership is now sixth in size of Auxiliaries of the state, despite the fact that many of them are located in large cities.

At a meeting of the Edgar Van Kirk Post, No. 7, of Yellow Springs, March 29, 1921, there were quite a number of items of interest brought up by our former P. C., Mr. Lowell Fess.

There are also plans on foot for something which is to happen in the near future, in which you will all want to have a hand. Let all members of the Post be present at the next meeting, Tuesday evening, April 5, 1921, at the Post rooms.

Those who have not paid their dues for 1921, please see the Post Finance Officer at the earliest possible date. Wm. Towne Garlough, Post Adjt.

One day talking with a stranger he recommended May's Wonderful Remedy, which helped me at once." CHILD WIFE ASKS DIVORCE

Florence Moon is plaintiff in a divorce action against James Moon, in her petition filed with Clerk of Courts C. S. Johnson. She says they were married January 12, 1917, when she was 17 and her husband 20, and charges gross neglect, cruelty and adultery. The wife in her petition claims the defendant has inflicted bodily injury on her, threatened to kill her, that he has failed to support her and is now out on bond from Juvenile Court on a charge of failure to provide. She claims he is guilty of adultery during the last six months, creating a scandal at Old Town, where they live. She claims the defendant is able to support her having recently come into $1,000. The couple has three children, James L., aged three years, Dorothy J., aged two years and Gertrude Virginia, an infant born November 21, 1920. Judge R. L. Gowdy awarded the plaintiff the custody of the children and ordered the defendant to pay $8 a week for their support pending the litigation.

AN EASY WAY FOR THIN PEOPLE TO PUT ON FLESH AND GAIN WEIGHT

Strong, Straightforward Advice to Thin, Underdeveloped Men and Women.

If you are thin, scrawny and undeveloped, if your face is peaked and your cheeks and neck exhibit unsightly hollows, it's almost certain that your nervous system is at the bottom of the trouble. You can eat three, yes four, substantial, fat producing meals a day but as long as your stomach has an insufficient supply of nerve force this food you eat will pass out of the body with little if any benefit.

In order to assimilate properly the nourishing food you eat and convert it into healthy tissue and fat the nerves that control the process of digestion and assimilation must be put in first-class shape and until that is done you might just as well quit trying to put on flesh. Your system is starving for something that will turn the food you eat into healthy stay-thera flesh and it can only be done in one way by correcting faulty nervous digestion.

Thin, nervous, run-down people, however, with impoverished blood and half starved looks are hailing with delight a quick and certain maker of solid flesh called EVANS' TRIPLE PHOSPHATES that is unequalled for repairing faulty digestion and correcting nervous digestive troubles. Phosphates guarantee that one month's treatment will increase your weight by several pounds and within ten days make you feel like a new being, full of ambition, vigor and a desire to accomplish things. Sohn's Drug Store, Sayre & Hemphill, and leading druggists everywhere have agreed to supply Evans' Triple Phosphates and guarantee it to do just what is claimed for it or money refunded.

Caution: While Evans' Triple Phosphates accomplishes wonders in nervous digestive troubles and as a general nerve tonic, it should not be taken by anyone who objects to a few additional pounds of solid stay-thera flesh.

NURSE ENDORSES FAMOUS NERV-WORTH

Says That It Does All That Is Claimed For It: Quiets the Nerves, Aids Digestion, and Produces Restful Sleep.

"I recommend Nerv-Worth because of the fact that it certainly does benefit me when I become nervous and tired out after a long term of nursing." Thus wrote Clarke Childers, a Parkersburg, W. Va., nurse some time ago, and she continued, "In my business it becomes necessary to lose lots of sleep, and requires many hours of constant watching, which wears on the nerves. Nerv-Worth does all that you claim for it. It quiets the nerves, aids digestion, and produces restful sleep." The above is an endorsement from a woman whose profession constantly throws her in contact with medicines and their uses, and various kind of sickness. A nurse does not recommend anything that is not good, and their professional knowledge makes their recommendation worth while. Nothing needs to be added to the above statement, as it tells fully what Nerv-Worth does. If you suffer from nervousness, sleeplessness, stomach trouble or their attending ills, give this famous preparation a trial, and if your first bottle does not prove that it is helping you, your money will be refunded. You will finally come to Nerv-Worth for real results, so why not start now? Be sure to get the genuine Nerv-Worth in the large, round bottle. Price $1.25 plus war tax. Sold by Sayre & Hemphill, and all leading druggists everywhere.

MYSTERY AUTO FOUND ON SCIOTO

Washington, C. H., April 5.—A Studebaker automobile which had been wrecked and then apparently pushed over an embankment in an effort to plunge it into the Scioto river and forever conceal it, has been causing considerable speculation in Chillicothe during the past few days.

The machine failed to plunge in the river as evidently intended and was found at the river brink, badly damaged and with blood stains in it where the occupants had been injured in a wreck prior to the effort to destroy the machine.

The officials are now engaged in trying to locate the owner of the machine and ascertain if it was pushed over the embankment in an effort to obtain the insurance.

INCREASES EFFECTIVE

Sistersville, W. Va., April 4.—Freight rates increases approximately 20 per cent are effective on the Sistersville and New Martinsville Traction Company's lines here.

DIES IN HOSPITAL

Maynard, April 4.—Daniel Rogers, Jr., 12, died in Martins Ferry hospital from bullet wounds. It is said the boy was hit while with companions at target practice.

First Snake Story Of Years Published

This, the first snake story of the season is culled from the Mt. Sterling Tribune:

"M. L. Rowe, the plumber reports the first snake story of the season. While sitting on the bank of Deer Creek near the mouth of the tail race of the Mt. Sterling mill, he noticed a snake crawling and stretching itself in the balmy sunshine. He killed the reptile and resumed his fishing. In a short time another appeared upon the scene and met the fate of its mate. An investigation showed that the snakes were crawling out of a hole in the ground and Mr. Rowe was soon busily engaged as the reptiles came out of the hole in a procession. Twenty eight were killed and two got away. The snakes were garter snakes and ranged in length from two to two and one-half feet."

REDUCE JUDGMENT

Bucyrus, April 4.—The $3,000 judgment rendered against the John Napp estate in common pleas court was reduced to $525 by agreement, according to the final accounts of the administrator. Last year, Napp is alleged to have shot Mrs. Barbara Stark, at Crestline, killing her and then committing suicide.

The executor of the Stark estate sued the executor of the Napp estate for damage and was granted $3,000 by a common pleas jury.

PIMPLY? WELL, DON'T BE

People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c and 30c.

BIRTH PLACE OF GRANT MAY BE AGAIN MOVED

The log cabin in which Ulysses S. Grant was born, now occupying a glass inclosed structure in the state fair grounds at Columbus, and where it is viewed by thousands every year, may be removed to its original site in Clermont County, if a well defined agitation by citizens of the latter county is successful.

For many years the historic structure has been standing in the state fairgrounds in fact since its purchase in 1883 by Henry T. Chittenden, Columbus capitalist, the log cabin has been a part of Franklin County, and it is reliably stated that Mr. Chittenden, a shrewd lawyer received a clear title to his purchase.

Predicting that the Board of Agriculture would not listen to any plan for removal of the cabin, Secretary of Agriculture Shaw said, "Thousands see it in the state fair grounds where only a few would see it at Point Pleasant."

STACKHOUSE'S PLAN MAY BECOME LAW

The plan of a one per cent tax on gross sales, as a substitute for the excess profits tax, as proposed by W. H. Stackhouse, Springfield manufacturer and taxation authority in an address before the Chamber of Commerce here, a short time ago, is back of the organization of the Tax League of America which has offices in New York and Washington.

A bill providing for this taxation plan is now being prepared for introduction in Congress. Charles A. Hinch, of Cincinnati, is advisory member of the committee from Ohio of the Tax League. The officers are: Hazen J. Burton, of Minneapolis, president; John Williams, of New York; vice president; Henry J. Oddy, of New York, executive vice-president; Julius S. Bache, of New York, who spoke in Dayton last week, treasurer, and Lebbeus R. Welfley, chairman of the executive committee.

Other members of the advisory board are B. F. Gimbel, and Arthur Lehman of New York; James A. Patten, Edward Hines, Edward N. Hurley, George M. Reynolds of Chicago; H. M. Kerr, Norfolk, Va.; and George M. Bancroft, of Orange, Texas. The plan is said to have the support of President Harding, in which connection it is remembered that Mr. Stackhouse presented his one per cent tax on gross sales in a 45 minute conference with Mr. Harding, before his inauguration.

MOTHERS' CIRCLE TO GIVE PLAYLET

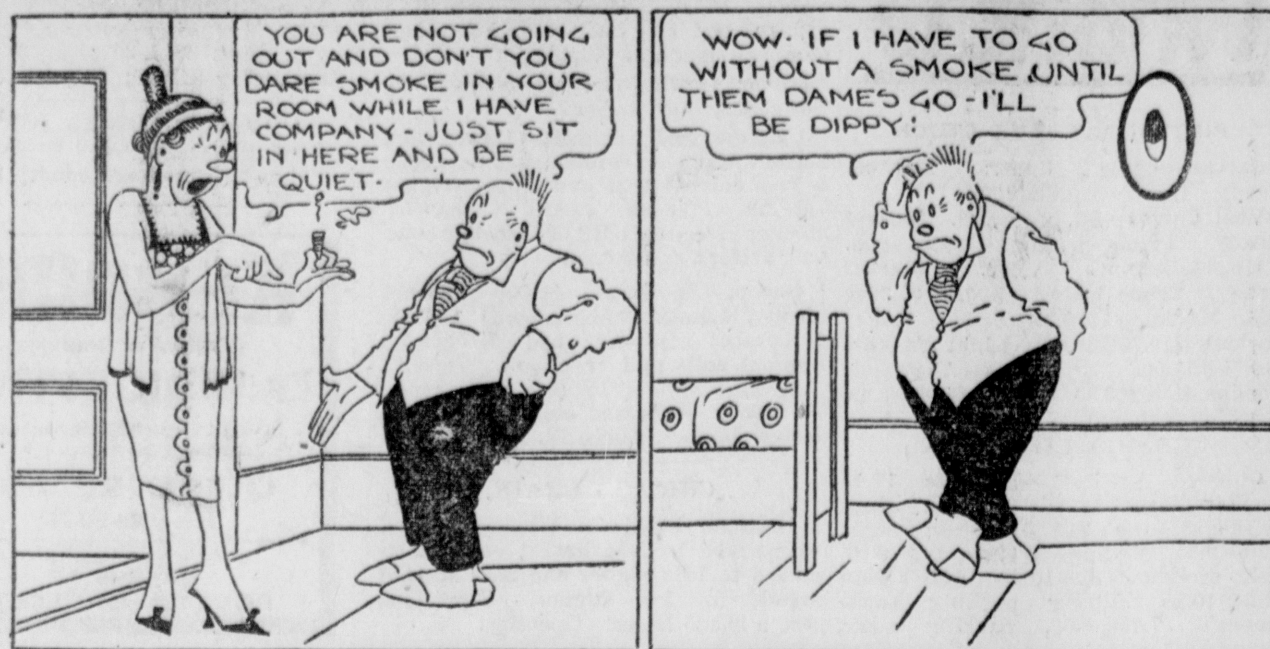

Between 40 and 50 people will take part in the presentation of "The Spinster's Return," a playlet to be given by the members of the Orient Hill Mother's Circle, at the Orient Hill School House, on Thursday and Friday nights of this week.

Much amusement is assured patrons who attend the performance a clever plot being offered in the little production. The sum that will be raised by the play, will be used by the Mothers' circle to purchase small necessities for the children of the school. Admission to the performance will be ten cents. In addition to the playlet, several dialogues, songs and recitations will be given by members of the club.

FARMERS TO BEGIN SPRING WORK IN NEXT FEW DAYS

Greene county farmers are looking forward to the coming week, with the intention of beginning the spring work in real earnest, and expect to be planting corn within the next thirty days.

During the intervening thirty days the farmers will spend every moment possible breaking ground and doing the other spring work preparatory to seeding time.

Oats sowing has been under way and a large acreage is indicated. Rebuilding fences, completion of corn husking, looking after the spring pigs and dozens of kindred affairs are occupying attention in addition to the spring plowing.

There will be no decreased acreage in Greene county it is believed, and the outlook for large acreages in all crops is unusually favorable, more abundant farm labor and decreased wages being encouraging factors to the farmers generally.

AN UNPLEASANT EPISODE

CHAPTER 7.

As I made my apologies for the disordered rooms I stole a glance at Keith's face. He was livid, and little angry darts flashed from his eyes.

"We will go down to Margaret's sitting room, Underwood. That is always in order."

Without another word to me they turned and went down the stairs. Undecided, I stood looking after them for a moment, then summoning up all my courage, I followed. At least I would hear what was said to Margaret.

"Excuse me for disturbing you, Margaret," Keith said after she had greeted him and Mr. Underwood, "but my apartment was in disorder, so I took the liberty—"

"My rooms are always open to you, Keith dear. And if I do say it they are usually in order."

"Mine would have been if you had not called Annie away," I said quietly. "I supposed when I went downtown with you, Keith, that she would finish them."

A scowl from Keith, a look of something like disgust on Mr. Underwood's face as if he were going to be a witness to a family quarrel and hated the idea, a sneer on Margaret's lips, made me sorry I had spoken even before Keith said:

"We'll not discuss the matter. It is of no interest."

Listening to the conversation, I learned that Jack Underwood had been very intimate with Keith before our marriage. "Damon and Pythias," Margaret called them. I also had a feeling that Mr. Underwood had resented Keith's marriage. Something Margaret said gave me the impression. It made me self-conscious. I longed to be nice to Keith's friends, and so to please him, but I felt ill at ease, terribly out of all the conversation, and worried over what Keith would say when we were alone. Would he accept my explanation about the untidy rooms or would he blame me?

The dinner dragged dreadfully. But afterward Keith asked me to play for them. I played far better than Margaret, and so felt quite happy that he had asked me. Mr. Underwood was musical, and he complimented me pleasantly and kept asking for different things for over an hour. By the time I had finished Keith was seemingly good-natured again. He went upstairs to fetch some photographs of the places we had visited on our wedding trip. In a few minutes he called:

"Jack! Vera! Come on up! Margaret has seen them so many times we won't bore her with them."

Delighted yet wondering, I rose and followed Jack Underwood up the stairs. The door stood open, and the room was in perfect order. Annie had heard what Keith had said to me in the hall, and had taken her dinner hour to arrange the rooms.

But Keith spoiled my happiness—although it didn't alter the fact that the rooms looked all right, and that we were alone—away from Margaret—by saying:

"I see sister has helped you out by sending one of the servants to fix up," he had spoken so low Mr. Underwood had not heard.

"No she hasn't," I declared, knowing nothing about it, but feeling sure that Annie had done it for me.

Keith flushed angrily again, but made no reply. Mr. Underwood remained until nearly midnight and I was really enjoying myself. I had recovered a part of my poise and in discussing the wonderful places we visited, the good times we had on our wedding trip, I almost forgot the unpleasant happenings of the early evening.

"I have enjoyed myself hugely," Jack Underwood said as he shook hands with me at parting. You and Keith must let me entertain you soon."

"I shall be delighted," I replied honestly, I had not liked Mr. Underwood at first, but found him charming after I forgot myself and my discomfort.

"I shall not forgive you for marrying Keith unless I see you often," he added.

"You mean you won't forgive him for marrying me," I returned laughing a little.

"He could not be blamed for that," he said gallantly, then Keith interrupted, and after good nights, our guest was gone.

"He's very nice, Keith," I said. "The best fellow I know. I would rather anyone than him should have seen the rooms as they were. It was horribly mortifying."

"Margaret called Annie away and kept her so that she had no time to do them. But rather than have you displeased again I will do them myself."

"Be sure you do. Anyway don't let the thing occur again."

Afton, Tenn.—"I want other suffering women to know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. During Change of Life I was in bed for 18 months and had good care, but did not improve. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did, and in a short time I felt better. That was five years ago, and now when I feel run down and nervous I take the Compound and it always does me good. I wish all women would try it during Change of Life, for I know it will do them good."—Mrs. A. KELLER, Afton, Tenn.

Thomas, Okla.—"I first used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in my girlhood days, by the advice of a friend. At the age of 47 I was troubled with dizziness, hot flashes, and became very weak so that I was unable to do any work. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with the result that I felt better and stronger than I have for years. I have also given it to my three daughters, and always with good results. The Vegetable Compound is certainly grand for the ills of women."—Mrs. J. G. SWARTY, Route B, Thomas, Okla.
